Judgment Sunday (Meatfare Sunday)

March 10 Reading

The foregoing two parables -- especially that of the Prodigal Son -- have presented to us God's extreme goodness and love for man. But lest certain persons, putting their confidence in this alone, live carelessly, squandering upon sin the time given them to work out their salvation, and death suddenly snatch them away, the most divine Fathers have appointed this day's feast commemorating Christ's impartial Second Coming, through which we bring to mind that God is not only the Friend of man, but also the most righteous Judge, Who recompenses to each according to his deeds.

It is the aim of the holy Fathers, through bringing to mind that fearful day, to rouse us from the slumber of carelessness unto the work of virtue, and to move us to love and compassion for our brethren. Besides this, even as on the coming Sunday of Cheesefare we commemorate Adam's exile from the Paradise of delight -- which exile is the beginning of life as we know it now -- it is clear that today's is reckoned the last of all feasts, because on the last day of judgment, truly, everything of this world will come to an end.

All foods, except meat and meat products, are allowed during the week that follows this Sunday.

Kontakion of Judgment (Meatfare) Sunday
First Tone

O God, when You come upon the earth in glory, the whole world will tremble. A river of fire will bring all before Your Judgment Seat and the books will be opened, and everything in secret will become public. At that time, deliver me from the fire which never dies, and enable me to stand by Your right hand, O Judge most just.

From the desk of Fr. Nick...

My Dear Brothers and Sisters in Christ,

THIS IS THE DAY THAT THE LORD HAS MADE! LET US REJOICE AND BE GLAD IN IT!

Happy March to all of you! It is so weird that we are not celebrating the beginning of Lent until the middle of the month. But this year we get to have a deeper dive into the month of March before Lent begins.

The biggest saint of the month of March, according to all Christians (not just Orthodox), is St. Patrick. A lot of people don't know this, but St. Patrick is actually considered to be an Orthodox Christian saint. He lived and died well before the Great Schism of 1054, so he is still commemorated by the Orthodox Church. When I say "well before", he lived at the same time as St. John Chrysostom and St. Augustine (St. Augustine is another Orthodox Saint who is more well known in the West than in the East – we will discuss him at another time).

St. Patrick, although revered especially by the Christians in Ireland, was not Irish. The discovery of that little nugget of information blew my mind. In fact, he was, according to his own journal, taken captive from his home in Britain by Irish pirates. He lived there as a slave for six years, taking care of a herd of swine before he received a vision showing him the way that he would return home. Directed by God, he traveled 200 miles on foot to the ship that would eventually take him back home.

Once he returned home, he received his education, got ordained and began to make plans to return to... Ireland? Is he crazy? Why would he go back to the place where he was treated so poorly? I mean, if I walked 200 miles just to get away from some place, I don't know anyone who would be trying to make plans to return there.

But St. Patrick isn't just anyone. He was a follower of Jesus Christ and he had received another vision of an angel coming to him with many letters. After selecting one of the letters, entitled "The Voice of the Irish", he heard the people of Ireland asking him to return. It must have taken him much courage to be obedient to this vision and choose to go back to a place with so many painful memories.

Nevertheless, his previous time there, as a slave, proved to be the reason why his ministry worked so well in Ireland. He knew the language, and he knew the culture. He knew that there were some very pious people there, but he also knew that much of the island was in need of Jesus Christ. He worked tirelessly to bring the good news of Christ to those who already had it and to those who didn't.

The Irish people, like the majority of the world, were mainly illiterate. So instead of grand theological debates, he used a weed to show them how God exists in a Trinitarian form. That weed was called a shamrock - one "flower" with three leaves on it. It was a beautiful symbol and it is still associated with him.

St. Patrick eventually became a bishop, and we remember him for many things. He built many churches, some of which are still standing. He started monasteries. He kept working on the people, many of whom were hostile toward him for being a former slave and not native to Ireland. He nonetheless prevailed and is known in the Orthodox Church as "Equal-to-the-Apostles" and "The Enlightener of Ireland". He is remembered on March 17.

St. Patrick's legacy to us is how, even in the difficult moments in life (like being stolen from one's family and living as a slave for six years), God can transform the painful moments into being the moments needed to grow into the person that God needs us to be. We see that nothing is truly impossible to our Lord. He can and does make His perfect will known to us and He allows us to see how these unfortunate circumstances are just a small part into making us into the dedicated and loving servants that He wishes us to be! God bless you all!

Message From DEACON MICHAEL

During the period of the Great Lent the awakening of the spirit of man comes about through inspiration from the Head of the Church, Jesus Christ. It is a time of self-examination and preparation and of taking an inventory of one's inner life. He and Christ know his exact condition. At this time one sees himself in the mirror of the Gospel how he looks. One finds the means and the ways to correct and improve himself. Lent is a period of time when one delivers into himself with the light of the Holy Spirit in order to rid himself of the impediments which hold him back. It is a period when one strengthens his faith by more prayer and a devotional life. Great Lent is not only about deprivation. It is about discipline and spiritual growth.

The discipline to stay away from certain kinds of food will train our minds to also stay away from certain kind of behaviors. Lent is a time to look at our relationship with God. Does our life reflect loyalty and closeness to God our Father. Lent is also a time to look at our relationship with one another. Do we love our neighbor as ourselves? Let us each use the Great Lent as a time of transformation, making small improvements to our spiritual life and making those permanent. Let us come to the Lord, the Physician and Healer of our souls and bodies. Let us come to Him in repentance and an admission of our sins and our hurts, so that by His Grace, we can be healed of them.

Brothers and Sisters in Christ, Have a Blessed Lent.

Deacon Michael

CATERING

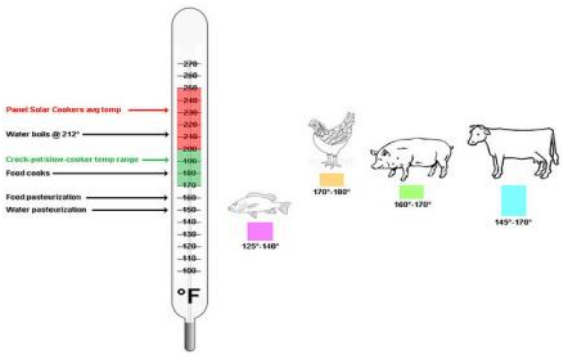

Hello Everyone!

Our friendly reminder:
Food Safety is a MUST……Always!

We are encouraging all of our Holy Trinity groups and families that use the kitchen to follow the Safe Temperatures of food served. This includes all food left out on the kitchen counters AND in the chafing dishes while serving an event. It is best to keep the hot food in the hot boxes and sterno under the chafing dishes. (It is better to it eat hot, too!) The cold food should be stored in the cooler.

Check your temps:

Poultry & Fowl	165*
Ground beef, veal, pork, lamb, venison	160*
Fresh beef, veal, pork, lamb, venison	145*
Fish & Shell Fish	145*
Eggs	160*

Let's all stay healthy!
