From the Desk of Fr. Nick....

My Dear Brothers and Sisters in Christ,

THIS IS THE DAY THAT THE LORD HAS MADE! LET US REJOICE AND BE GLAD IN IT!

Beloved, the Orthodox Church has some amazing feast days and saints days. There are many saints that we honor throughout the church year. Although there are saints and/or feasts for every day of the Church year, it is often that there are certain seasons (like the beginning of December) where there are several major saints/feasts in a row. November has a stretch like that.

We have November 1 (the feast day of Sts. Kosmas and Damianos – the Holy Unmercenaries). Then we have a stretch of major saints and feasts for over a week: November 8 (we will get back to this one), November 9 (St. Nektarios), November 10 (St. Arsenios of Cappadocia), November 11 (St. Menas of Egypt), November 12 (St. John the Merciful), November 13 (St. John Chrysostom), November 14 (Apostle Philip and St. Gregory Palamas), November 15 (Advent Fast Begins) and November 16 (Apostle Matthew). 9 days in a row with saints who are largely well known in Orthodox circles. There aren't many runs like that in the church. And it is all kicked off on November 8.

What is celebrated on November 8 in the Orthodox Church? (I said that I would come back to this so here we go.) November 8 is the celebration of the Holy Archangels (The Taxiarche). Most of the time, we remember the Archangels Michael and Gabriel, because these are the two that are the most known to us. But others include the 3 Archangels mentioned in the Bible: Archangels Michael, Gabriel and Raphael. Still others include all the Bodiless Hosts of Angels.

Whoa... Who and who? Yep. These are the three Archangels mentioned in the full Bible (including the Septuagint and the whole New Testament). I know what you are thinking... Where are these Archangels mentioned in the Bible?

Well, Archangel Michael is mentioned a few times: In Daniel 10:13, Michael is described as one of the chief princes. In Daniel 12:1, he is identified as the great prince who stands guard over the people. In Jude 1:9, Michael the archangel refrains from a reviling accusation against the devil, saying "The Lord rebuke you!" Then in Revelation 12:7, Michael and his angels engage in heavenly warfare against the dragon and his forces.

Then, we have Archangel Gabriel. In Daniel 8:16 and 9:22, Gabriel is instructed to help Daniel understand his vision and brings insight and understanding to him. And then in the New Testament, Luke 1:19, Gabriel identifies himself to Zechariah announcing the birth of John the Baptist. In Luke 1:30-37, he reassures Mary during the Annunciation.

Archangel Raphael, appears only in the book of Tobit. In Tobit 3:17, Raphael is sent by God to heal blindness and to free Sarah from the demon Asmodeus. In Tobit 5:4, Raphael (under the name Azarias) meets Tobias as he is searching for a travel companion. And then in Tobit 12:15, he reveals his true identity, stating, "I am Raphael, one of the seven angels who stand in the glorious presence of the Lord, ready to serve him."

It is important to note that, in the book of Tobit, we hear about how Raphael is one of 7 angels who "stand in the glorious presence of the Lord." In some traditions, there is sometimes a 4th Archangel, who is mentioned in some texts (although not in any Biblical canon): Archangel Uriel. Again, the actions of this Archangel are less important than the fact that we know the Angel's name from its being revealed also in some visions of the saints, as well as in written form.

Regarding these blessed Archangels, and 4 others whose names have been revealed over the course of time (1. Selaphiel (Salathiel), 2. Jegudiel (Jehudiel), 3. Barachiel, and 4. Jeremiel (Jerahmeel)), it is important to note that we have only scratched the spiritual surface of understanding the Archangels, let alone the entire bodiless host of Angels (within which are nine different types of angels). But, that is for a different article.

Let us honor the Lord for giving us these amazing bodiless hosts who help defend and protect us from falling too far away from our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ. They stand guard invisibly and continue to point the way back to God. Let us remember them in our prayers and honor them as we worship our Lord and Savior, Jesus Christ. God bless you all!

Pontian Society News

We are in the process of re-organizing our Pontian Dance Troupes. We are still in need of our dance costumes that are missing from past years. PLEASE return any pieces that are not yours to the church. We also want to welcome anyone that is interested in joining the dance troupes, ages 5 and up. We encourage our college kids as well. Please contact Voula Pierce at 330-705-5181. We will be hosting a Pontian Coffee Hour coming up on Sunday, November 15, and encourage all dancers, old & new, to come and sign up, so we can plan accordingly for next year.

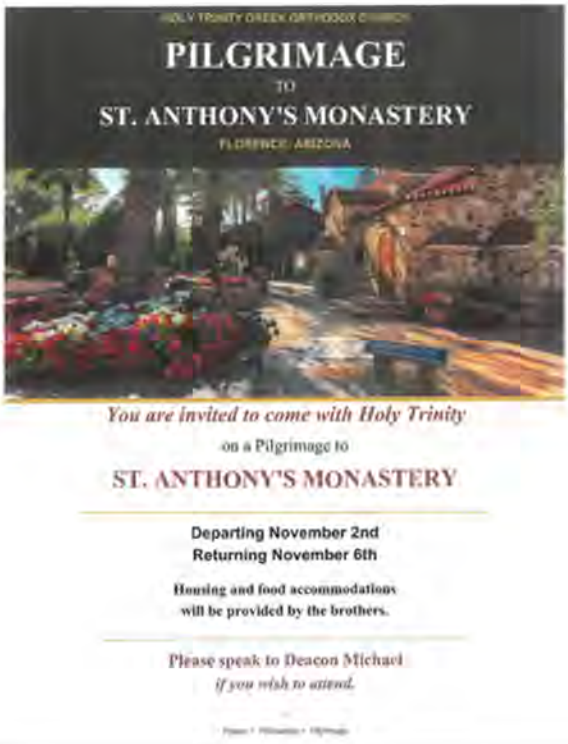

Message From DEACON MICHAEL ...

My brothers and sisters in Christ,

According to the Orthodox Church, going to church is vital because the Church is the physical body of Christ and salvation is experienced together in a living community rather than in isolation. Participating in the Divine Liturgy and receiving the Eucharist (the literal Body and Blood of Christ) is central to Orthodox life and cannot be done alone at home. As the saying goes, "The Church makes the Eucharist and the Eucharist makes the Church." The Orthodox Church is viewed as a replica of the Heavenly Jerusalem where heaven touches earth. In worship, believers join with the angels and the communion of the saints. The Orthodox service engages the entire human being, mind and body and all the senses, through chanting, icons, incense and physical postures like standing and bowing and sometimes kneeling. The Divine Liturgy is always done by Orthodox Christians on the Lord's Day which is Sunday, symbolic of the first day of creation.This is the day of Christ's Resurrection from the dead the day of the Lord which inaugurates the presence and the power of the "Kingdom to come" - already now within the life of this present world.

Your Parish Deacon,

Deacon Michael
